MASS TRANSIT

Temple University is a stop on several local public transportation routes. The primary modes of public transportation available on September 17 are the SEPTA Regional Rail Lines, the SEPTA subway, and the SEPTA Bus.

To plan your Regional Rail or subway trip to Temple University, go to <http://www.septa.org/maps/system>. On the left side of the screen is "Google Transit". Using the station names on the "Clickable Map" on the right, enter the station where you will start your trip next to the green arrow and "Temple University Station" or "Cecil B. Moore Station" next to red arrow. Enter the date and time of your planned arrival. Select "Arriving". Then select "Submit". The system will display the details of your trip.

By clicking on a station on the "Clickable Map", you can obtain more information about parking and fees at that station, ticket prices to your destination, train schedules, etc.

Senior citizens with valid ID can ride for free on SEPTA or for $1 on the Regional Rail system. For more information, go to: <http://www.septa.org/fares/discount/seniors-ride-free-info.html>.

RR1 Closest SEPTA Regional Rail station to Temple University is the "Temple University Station"

S1 Closest Subway station to Temple University is "Cecil B. Moore Station" on the Broad Street Line

When you exit to the station, walk north on the west side of Broad Street to the Liacouras Center entrance.
